STANSBURY PROGRESS ASSOCIATION INCORPORATED

March has been super busy in town with lots of interstate travellers visiting Stansbury and our district. The weather has been beautiful and, with Easter, school holidays plus the Anzac Day long weekend to look forward to, April is going to be jammed packed for some mid Autumn holiday fun. This period is of course one of the busiest times of the year on the Peninsula and we would like to wish our residents and visitors an enjoyable and safe holiday.

Our March 12 Seaside Market was held under calm blue skies and warm temperatures. This was our first market for 2022 and our stallholders were thrilled to be back at Stansbury. The crowd was the biggest since the October 2021 long weekend and everyone enjoyed the morning. The Stansbury Museum held their annual raffle which was a great success and many stallholders reported great sales for the day.

The last market for the season will be held on Easter Saturday 16 April from 9am to 2pm. This is traditionally one of the biggest markets of the season and, with the Caravan Park and accommodation around Stansbury booked, we're expecting a bumper crowd. We hope the weather gods send us a beautiful day to end our season. Be sure to drop by the Lions Club van, where they have their delicious hot donuts for sale and while you're there, support this wonderful charity and buy a raffle ticket or two!

Around Town.

The Tidy Towns group has been busy cleaning up damage from the storm and rains, including removing branches, damaged trees, working on the footpath down near the Pines, the pathway near Mills Gully and the roadway near the cemetery. This group of volunteers do a great job to help keep our town beautiful.

New Website.

We're pleased to announce the launch of the new Stansbury town website which has great information about Stansbury and our surrounding district. Please have a look at this fresh new site at www.stansburysa.com.au

Visitor Information Centre.

Our Visitor Information Centre has also been a busy place, with a steady flow of tourists this past month. You might have seen on Facebook that we've got some beautiful new gifts in store plus new zippered hoodies in a variety of colours and sizes. Don't worry, if you love the original hoodie, we have those in stock in as well. While you're here visiting, come into the Centre and have a browse and support our local community – you might find something lovely you weren't expecting!

We are still in search of volunteers!

We are still calling for interested members of the community to assist our current volunteers in the set up and dismantling of road closure barricades on market days. This takes around an hour of time in the morning and an hour at the end of the market pack down. Training will be provided. If you are interested in finding out more, please contact Diana at the Stansbury Visitor Information Office – 8852 4577 or email tourism@stansburysa.com.au.

Stansbury Turns 150!

Our beautiful town turns 150 in 2023 and we want to celebrate in style! We have had a few responses to our call for expressions of interest from members of the community from last month's Scribble – thank you so much for volunteering your time for this project. However, there's still time to get involved! If you would like to register your name, please contact the Stansbury Visitor Information Office on 8852 4577

or email Diana at tourism@stansburysa.com.au

YOUR CHANCE TO BE ON TV!

Progress is seeking expressions of interest from local businesses regarding featuring in an episode of "helloSA" (formerly Adelady). At this stage, it is proposed to have a 4-5minute segment in an episode later in the year. This segment would feature up to 4 local businesses who would share the cost of the segment. "helloSA" airs on Channel 9 at 5.30pm Sundays. At this stage there are 2 spare spots available in the 4-5 minute segment. Please contact Diana at the Stansbury Visitor Centre for further information or to register your interest by 4.30pm on Thursday 21 April.

Wishing everyone a safe and happy Easter! Please drive safely.

- Stansbury Pharmacy on the outside, eastern wall.
- Stansbury Bowling Club on the club house wall facing the greens.
- Stansbury Golf Club on the front veranda of the club rooms.

These are automated and instructions are provided so please don't be afraid to use one. You could save a life!

STANSBURY COMMUNITY CHURCH

The Stansbury Community Church meets every Sunday for a 10:30 a.m. worship service and we would love you to join with us. This month we remember the death and more importantly the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ. Join with us on Good Friday and celebrate with us His resurrection on Sunday.

Give Jesus A Chance

'Come, follow Me, and I will show you how.' Matthew 4:19

When others don't see your potential, Jesus does. In common fishermen, He saw the capacity to change the world. Here is something you may not have considered: there are two sides to following Jesus—you believe in Him, and He believes in you.

Jesus told Simon Peter and Andrew, 'Come, follow Me, and I will show you how.'

COMMUNITY CRAFT AND FRIENDSHIP

We asked for crocheted squares for a tribute rug for Helen Davis last month, and had 100 completed halfway through March. Someone is going to be nice and warm, in a very colourful way. Fluffy knitted squares for a Rosemary rug are still underway, and will be complete before our Care-a-thon in May.

We enjoyed a visit from the Warooka craft girls during March too, as we shared our projects together.

My Story, and Gardening Gurus continue to bring interest to our group.

We are going to start rock painting in April. Yes, we're not short of rocks in this district, but smoother beach rocks will be easier to paint. Have you heard of SARocks? Well we might try a version of StansburyRocks. All are welcome to join us 9.30 - 11.30 April 6th and 20th at the Community church. Bring a rock.

And on behalf of the CCF group, we wish you all a Happy and Safe Easter, as we reflect on Jesus's death and resurrection. Greater love has no man than this that he lay down his life for his friends. John 15:13.

STANSBURY SPORTS & COMMUNITY CLUB

Footy Tipping - We have seen a great result in numbers that have joined the SSCC Footy Tipping Competition for 2022. Welcome to our new tippers and welcome back to those from last year. Prizes for 2022 are:

1st Prize - $300

2nd Prize - $150

3rd Prize - $50

Weekly round winner - $20

Streak winner - $100

The weekly winners will be posted on the 'wall' each week.

All prizes will be paid out at the end of the footy season.

Projects - The SSCC has a number of projects on the go. You may have seen the tree that was recently removed near the outside toilet block at the oval. This was required due to safety reasons. We look forward to redeveloping and landscaping this area into a usable space in the future. Another big project underway is the town courts resurfacing. This has started with a completion date in time for the 2022 netball season. The grandstand refurbishment is still in the pipeline with Council managing this project. We hope to see some action on this soon.

Working Bee and Volunteers - We are planning on holding a working bee in the coming months before the start of the Football and Netball season. It would be great to get a few more hands on deck. Please monitor our Facebook page for further details. In addition, with many projects on the go and many more scheduled, if anyone would be interested in volunteering some time, it would be greatly appreciated.
Please contact Renee Lukeman on 0412160933 to express your interest.

With the increasingly commonplace use of electronic devices to access and conduct our financial activities, scammers have turned their wiles to devising methods to access the financial information stored within our devices.

Online banking is now so common that we don't turn a hair at using our mobile phone or computer to conduct our financial affairs and access our accounts. Often with the demands of remembering the thousand or so passcodes/words that we seem to need for our normal online activities we take the easy way out and allow our phones and devices to store and retrieve our passwords for us.

This means that your devices are now the very lucrative keys to accessing your finances. In 2021 South Australians lost in excess of $4.2 million dollars in remote access scams.

So what is a remote access scam?

A scammer will contact a target by phone, email or even an online pop up chat claiming to be from a reputable known company or institution. It may be Telstra about your NBN service, Microsoft offering to install a virus update or new security, Amazon or Paypal advising your account has been frozen. It could even be your own bank, Superannuation Fund or the Tax Office supposedly calling to let you know about a suspect transaction on your account. The story will be plausible and reasonable but what comes next is far from reasonable. Instead of the promised assistance it will be an app which will allow them to remotely access your device and your accounts. Legitimate business applications such as Anydesk, Teamviewer, Zoho assist, Quik Support can easily be used by scammers to access your account.

If they manage to install a remote access app then they won't even bother asking for your PIN. They already have the means to lock you out of your account while they drain it!

So here are some RED FLAGS to be aware of that may indicate that the very helpful voice on the other end of the phone is actually a heartless scammer.

- They are very persistent in getting you to agree to let them access your device.

- They may even become angry and aggressive if you won't do what they are telling you to do. They may even threaten you with losing all your money, closure of your account or even being arrested.

- They may (not always) demand the PIN or password to your accounts.

- They demand personal information or photographs of documents to verify your identity.

- They demand large payments to 'fix' the problem or insist you buy gift cards. (Rest assured the Tax department will never accept payment in iTunes cards)

If you are at all suspicious then hang up immediately.

If you think your account may have been compromised contact your bank or financial institution immediately.

If you're just not sure whether it might be legitimate then hang up and ring the relevant company yourself. Don't hit redial to dial the scammer back. Look up the number yourself. Protect Yourself!

- NEVER allow anyone to remotely access your computer/phone/tablet.

- NEVER give your Account information or your PIN or Password to ANYBODY no matter what.

- NEVER give personal details to someone who has rung you without warning.

- NEVER send copies of your personal identification documents to unsolicited callers.

- NEVER give an unknown caller your credit card details

- NEVER allow anyone to remotely access your computer/phone/tablet (yes I repeated myself because this point is important.)

- DO install anti-virus software that you have purchased yourself from a reputable vendor that you can trust.

STANSBURY PRIMARY SCHOOL

Where has that month gone!! Not only have we been busy building on our literacy and numeracy skills each day but also we have had many extra curriculum experiences to practice these.

We had combined sports day with Curry. The weather was amazing after a very rainy day the day before. Every child tried their best and was successful in their own rights. Unfortunately, our primary interschool has been postponed and we look forward to hearing the new date later this week.

Swimming and aquatics was another opportunity where children had the opportunity to try new things. Some children were hesitant especially when it came to knee boarding but you should have seen their faces after they accomplished this skill. It was wonderful to watch their confidence grow.

Have you seen the Port Power video where Ollie Wines visited the students virtually? Ask someone with face book if you have not. It was a wonderful video featuring all the children and sharing how we have all won tickets to the Gold Coast game and received a signed football each. Two students were lucky enough to receive a signed jersey. Key messages around water, diet, sleep etc were also conveyed through the talk.

We welcome two students to the school, Brandon and Jasmine. It is great to have the play centre families join us each Monday morning and have our valued volunteers back on site.

STANSBURY MUSEUM

Rowena Smith

Continuing on last months theme of 11 year old Dean Agnew's diary written in 1942/43, I need to set the scene. 1942 is often referred to as "the year that the war came to Australia". Darwin was first attacked by Japan on 19th February 1942 and Broome was attacked 2 weeks later. In May 1942 midget submarines entered Sydney Harbour and by June submarines had bombarded the ports of Sydney and Newcastle.

After Japan's entry into the war, training aircraft were formed into reserve squadrons to protect the South Australian coast. A ring of airfields were organised for the defence of Adelaide (Gawler, Mallala, Mount Gambier, Victor Harbor and Parafield).

Dean recounts in several of his diary entries sighting planes from the Mallala RAAF base. They were from the No 6 Service Training School. On Friday 6th June 1943 Dean wrote "This morning about 9 o'clock 6 aeroplanes flew over about 100' up. Richie said he got under a tree because it was only 2 yards above his head. Sammy said that he grabbed hold of a wing." He also recalls his father being on the Caterpillar tractor in the paddock and having "the daylights scared out of him" when an aeroplane skimmed over the top of him. He hadn't heard it until it was directly overhead. Dean also remembers horses bolting when startled by the aircraft. Dean's memory is that the vegetation along the coast road close to Stansbury was much shorter and less dense due to a nearby farmer grazing his sheep right up to the edge of the road and consequently seeing an aircraft suddenly appearing up over the cliff and hedgehopping across the paddocks was quite spectacular.

By October and November, Dean mentions specific aircraft types. "Yesterday a Wirraway fighter flew over" The Wirraway was a training and general purpose military aircraft. On 8th November 1943 his entry was accompanied by a drawing of the plane. "Yesterday a Avro Anson circled around Stansbury 5 times". The Avro Anson was a British twin engine multi role aircraft that was manufactured in Australia during WW2.

The majority of the male population were away doing military service with the exception of farmers who were exempted because they provided an essential service. Sadly Dean recalls being taunted by another child whose uncles served overseas (one later killed) because he had an uncle who was a farmer and remained safe at home. Those remaining, often WW1 veterans, formed part of the Voluntary Defence Core generally known as the Home Guard and they trained regularly, initially with broomsticks and later with guns. They also checked that everyone was observing the blackout, covering windows and headlights to stop enemy aircraft locating targets. See interesting snippets re the VDC's war time exploits in the museum's reading room.

Women joined the Voluntary Service Detachment (a wartime off shoot of Red Cross in SA and WA) and trained in first aid and civil defence. In the museum you can view the Red Cross display and see the uniform the VSD women wore. Dean tells of ladies sitting on the roof top balcony on the Institute all night watching for pilots who were off course and they are reputed to have saved at least one pilot's life.

The school children did their bit too. Dean and his school mates in Stansbury collected bones, batteries and silver paper for the Schools Patriotic Fund and were awarded with badges for their efforts. During WW2 in SA, children collected over 2,433 tonnes of bones for fertiliser production.

Dean also remembers the town's men digging trenches across the road from the Stansbury School and the children "doing slit trench trials". Each child had a dilly bag containing barley sugar and bandages and other things on their school desk. They had to grab them and run across the road and jump into the trenches as quickly as they could. They were practising in case of enemy attacks coming to Stansbury!!!

The Stansbury community well and truly played their part in the defence of their country both on the home front and overseas.
