STANSBURY PROGRESS ASSOCIATION INCORPORATED

September marks the beginning of spring and we are noticing the signs with increased bird activity and emerging buds on our fruit trees. Although we have seen quite some rain and chilly mornings lately, we should be looking forward to milder weather soon. Perfect weather for outdoor activities in Stansbury.

Beach Clean-up - Sunday 27 September 2026
As we prepare for the upcoming busy season, we are calling on community volunteers to lend a hand at our Beach Clean Up on Sunday, 27 September 2026. This is a great opportunity to help keep our beautiful coastline clean, safe, and welcoming for residents and visitors alike. Volunteers are asked to meet at the shelter near the foreshore fig tree starting at 10:00am, where the clean-up will commence. Whether you can spare 10 minutes or an hour, your support will make a valuable difference to our community and environment. We look forward to seeing you there!

Stansbury Seaside Markets
The first Stansbury Seaside Market for season 2026/2027 will be held on 3 October 2026, 9am-1pm. We have seen great support from stallholders wanting to take part in the opening market and are looking forward to a great season with all our regular stall holders plus some new and intriguing stalls as well. Make sure to mark the date in your diary. It will be an action-packed day with the Seaside Market in the morning followed by the SOUNDS BY THE SEA event on the oval 1pm - late.

Mural Art
The new mural at the Jetty toilet block is now complete, and we couldn't be happier with the result. This wonderful artwork showcases the creativity, colour, and spirit of our coastal community and provides a vibrant welcome to all who visit.
Next time you're enjoying a walk along the foreshore, take a moment to admire the mural and appreciate the talent that has helped bring this space to life.
Thank you to Jason Swales for making this project a reality.

THANK YOU TO THE STANSBURY COMMUNITY

After 25 wonderful years of living in "the place to be by the sea", it is time for us to move on and be closer to our family. We would like to sincerely thank everyone in the community for the kindness, friendship, love and support shown to us over the years.
We have truly enjoyed being part of this community and contributing in many ways, including through Bowls, Tidy Towns, Crocs, Lions and Meals on Wheels, to name just a few. These experiences, and the people we have met along the way, have given us many special memories that we will always treasure.
Special thanks to the Bowls Club, Tidy Towns and Crocs for the special farewell events, and to the people of Stansbury, for being an important part of our lives.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Community Information Meeting and Submissions to Council.

I urge all Stansbury residents to attend the Progress Association Information Meeting on Wednesday, September 2nd at 6.30 pm at the Stansbury Sports and Community Club. This is an information session only and I hope that respect will be shown to The Committee members and this meeting does not deteriorate into a dog fight. I am happy to facilitate a discussion session at the conclusion of the Information meeting if a sufficient number of attendees wish to do so. This will not be allied with the Progress Association, but committee members will be welcome should they wish to attend.

Once you have made your decision, in favour of the proposal or not it is imperative that you make your submission to the council by 5pm, September 16th. A simple yes or no will not cut it as a submission. You will need to substantiate the reason for your decision. Please do not miss this opportunity to have your say and influence the future of our town.

STANSBURY COMMUNITY CRAFT & FRIENDSHIP

August has been a warm and productive month for most of us, as we've been busy and productive in our airconditioned home base, the Community Church. Some have had some real health issues, and prayer support has been encouraging.

We are grateful to Annette, who taught us how to make sweet little felt slippers. And Nannette has taught us how to make card holders. We are so grateful to those who teach us new things, and expand our 'horizons'. A carload of us took a sample of some of our crafts to Melaleuca to 'show'n'tell', which we all enjoyed.

Knitting, crocheting and sewing continues, and we're enjoying our denim creations. There'll be more later about these! Us 'girls' come from towns all around Stansbury, as well as our lovely town. If anyone would like to join us, they'd be warmly welcome.

CFS WARNINGS AND UPDATES

From Monday 14 September 2026, CFS is making statewide changes to how warnings and updates are communicated to the broader community.

What's changing:

The public email warning list is being discontinued.
The CFS X (Twitter) account, @SA_Alerts, is being discontinued.
The automated Facebook Updates page, which posts a live feed of all logged incidents, is being discontinued.

Why change:

The CFS is simplifying how we communicate. Research consistently shows email, X and the automated Facebook page are no longer where people go for fast, reliable warnings.
Alert SA, the CFS website and our main Facebook page are faster, better moderated and already reach a larger audience, so this lets us focus our effort where it has the most impact.

What stays the same:

Alert SA, the CFS website, and main CFS Facebook page, Instagram, LinkedIn and TikTok all continue as normal. Warnings will continue to be issued through all our usual official channels.

What is the Stansbury Brigade doing on a local level?

THE SIREN IS BACK !!

We believe the more communication channels we have the better. Whilst the Siren is no longer connected to our paging and messaging systems, we believe it is an important early warning system for our local community.

We will resume testing the Siren – Mondays @ 7:30 pm each week during the fire season and 1st and 3rd Mondays @ 7:30 pm outside of fire season.

If you hear the siren outside of these scheduled test times – it is a warning! and will pay you to be alert, look around, ask questions, check with your neighbours etc.
Thank you for your continued support of our Brigade.

Steve Bowley
Captain

LIONS CLUB OF STANSBURY DALRYMPLE.

It is now time to start thinking about what is coming up for the Lions Club members. We have had a few months rest and respite - some of us at home here and others travelling to warmer places. At the end of the month, we will be setting up for the first Seaside Market for the season.

Proceeds from this market will be used to help with the restoration of the mural on the Blue Lime that has been damaged by salt damp following the installation of the paved footpath. Once again, we will have hot dogs and donuts available. While price rises are inevitable, for this market, all goods will be at last year's prices. Come and grab a bargain and support a local fundraising effort.

Plans are underway for another school Children's Vision Screening program following the very successful one held at Minlaton District School. Further update in October.

STANSBURY MUSEUM

Rowena Smith

The Museum committee is delighted to welcome two new members. Robyn and Paul who bring experience, skills, passion and local knowledge (both were born in Stansbury) to add to and complement the existing members. Our thanks go to Craig and Ted for their valuable contributions as committee members. They have both committed to continue to support the museum in different roles which is much appreciated.

My article today unashamedly brings together some of my particular interests - Museums, History, Words! Museums like the Stansbury museum and many country museums focus on sharing and preserving local area history. Some celebrate a whole country's history like the Te Papa Museum in Wellington, New Zealand. Other museums focus on the history of something or someone specific, like the Migration Museum in Adelaide and the Evita Museum in Buenos Aires.

Here are a few museums with a specific interest. In London, there is a Cartoon Museum. The Cartoon Museum has examples of cartoons from the early 1700's onwards. It has regular exhibits and holds two additional exhibitions a year. As well as its historical brief, it does a lot of advocacy around cartooning and comics as a way of engaging and uplifting people, especially marginalised young people. It has a strong social mission.

A museum, that I would personally love to visit, is situated in an unusual location – Ely Cathedral in Cambridgeshire. It is the Stained Glass Museum. Its collection traces stained glass from its very early origins until today. Amazingly, the oldest piece on display dates from 1210 and as well, has fragments of coloured glass from the 7th century. Originally stained glass was used to tell bible stories to worshippers in churches who were unable to read and write. Many of the techniques and tools of stained glass artisans have changed very little since medieval times. One thing that is different is that today's electric kilns allow more accurate temperature control so there are fewer imperfections in the glass. What beautiful legacies the artisans of stained glass have left behind for people to enjoy often many hundreds of years later!

There are many different ways for the public to enjoy museums – individual contemplation, special exhibitions and events, group visits, guided tours, audio tours in different languages etc. In Berlin, there is a fascinating event called the Lange Nacht der Museen (the Long Night of Museums). It takes place from 6pm - 2am and 75 museums across the city will be open. This year's theme is "Crime in Berlin" (exploring real cases, forgery and crime fiction).For 23 euros (approx. $38 AUD) you get entry to all 75 museums plus a shuttle bus that connects the exhibition spaces. It sounds like a fun and interesting way to explore the city of Berlin and a unique aspect of its history on a summer evening. A chance to paint the town red!

This brings me to a change of topic, another of my loves, the origin and history of words. The history of and origin of words is called etymology. Did you know that many, many years ago, "to paint (the nose red)" used to be slang for "to drink" so the saying "to paint the town red" makes some sense when you understand its history. Another saying "the gift of the gab" makes sense once you know that the word gab is from the old Gaelic word for mouth. To gabble also has the same derivation.

I wonder if any of the milliners who made the diverse range of hats in our museum's collections knew how hat makers became to be known as milliners. The city of Milan in Italy was once famous for its material used in ladies' hats. The salesmen who sold this were called milaners and later this name was given to people who made hats – milliners. From the Swedish words val (whale) and ross (horse) , we now have the English word walrus. From Japanese, we have the word, tycoon which comes from "taikun" (great lord) – and yes, some business tycoons do appear to think they fit this description and expect others to bow down to them!

The history of the number eleven is logical. As humans have 10 fingers, the number ten is the basis for many systems of counting. The word eleven comes from the Anglo Saxon word "endleofan" which evolved from an earlier Germanic word "ainlif", "ain" meant one and "lif" meant left therefore eleven means "one left over after counting ten". How cool is that! I could go on forever about the history of words. One last one – today we have carpets on our floors but in the 17th century carpets were thick, woollen coverings on tables, beds or even walls. The word carpet comes from the old French word, "carpite" and Medieval Latin "carpita" meaning "pluck" (referring to the way woollen fibres for making carpets were manufactured). Carpets themselves had a much earlier origin than our current word carpet. The oldest carpet existing is over 2,500 years old and was found in a tomb in Siberia in the late 1940's –it is called the Pazyryk Rug. It is displayed today in The State Hermitage Museum, St Petersburg, Russia.

History and Museums are fascinating –You never know what you will find there!
